Hoffman heads school board

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

First term school trustee Debra Hoffman was elected president of the Romulus School Board Monday night and vowed to make improved communication one of her top priorities for 1995-96.

Minutes after her election, Hoffman who also serves as the city's deputy finance officer, revealed she "planned to work hard to improve communication with parents, between the school administration and school staff members and between the school district and the city as a whole."

Also elected were Kenneth Berlenn as vice president, Judith Gondek as secretary, and Julie Oleszkowicz as treasurer.

In addition, the board at its organizational meeting voted the following:

- Comerica and First of America will continue as depositories with the four board officers and Superintendent William Bedell having the authority to sign documents. (Two signatures are needed per document.)

- Board meetings will continue on the second and fourth Mondays of the month.

- Employed the firm of Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel to act as auditors.

- Renamed the law firm of Keller, Thoma, Schwarze, DuBay and Katz as well as Thrun, Maatch and Nordberg to act as attorneys for the school board.

- Appointed Assistant Superintendent Dr. Terrel M. LeCesne as the board's parliamentarian for the 1995-96.

Violence symposium Students gain national acclaim

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

Romulus High School students recently took top honors at a Washington D.C. service fair for their in-depth domestic violence symposium that was unveiled last March.

Kathy Hurst, high school spokeswoman, said Romulus High School was the only school from Michigan that was involved in the Service Fair for America competition that included schools from 32 other states.

"While at the Service Fair, students and faculty members visited various U.S. Senators and Congressmen to discuss their service activity and the importance of the Learn and Serve America Program to their education process," Hurst said.

They also got the chance to visit numerous historic buildings and to share ideas with their high school peers from across the U.S.

Hurst said the participating schools were awarded "national finalist, runner up or outstanding exhibit" honors. The "outstanding exhibit" was basically a first place award and the one Romulus students were presented.

The initial domestic violence symposium efforts were put on display March 29 at Romulus High and was attended by more than 200 students from 20 different high schools, Hurst said.

The day-long program included concurrent sessions on domestic violence in families, date/acquaintance rape, legal issues, drug and alcohol use related to domestic violence, conflict resolution, self esteem and sexual harassment.

The student symposium was funded primarily through a Learn and Serve Grant that Romulus High has been awarded for the past two years.

Community service has become a major part of Romulus High School life, according to Hurst.

While she and Sandy Schwartz (adult counselors) and Carly Brown and Roggett Peterson (students) were presenting the project in Washington, other Romulus student peers were active in various projects back home.

Hurst said some students were volunteering at the Mayor's Drug Task Force Golf Outing, others were providing literacy help to third grade students and still others were getting ready for the Adopt-A-Highway with the local Rotary Club members.

Hurst said local students want to make a positive difference in the world and feel there is no better place to start than in their own home town.

Teacher to intern at factory

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

Tired of hearing the age old story that schools are not training their students to accept jobs in business, a Romulus elementary school teacher will begin a two-week internship Monday at a downriver car business.

Margie Baird, a fifth and sixth grade teacher at Merriam Elementary School, will begin the compact study with Don Kelly at Auto Alliance International Inc. of Flat Rock.

Baird said she is getting involved because she realizes that all she has done for 26 years is teach school and work with students.

"I never worked in any other job," she admitted.

She said she feels it is important that she get some hands-on experience in today's modern factory scene.

"The students today want first-hand knowledge," Baird said. "Either I go or they have to go to work in the factories. Their age prohibits them, so I feel it is necessary for me to obtain as much exposure and knowledge as possible."

Approximately 20 other teachers in the Downriver area will be doing similar internships at auto plants, other industries and hospitals.

The internship program was created by the Downriver Community Conference to acquaint teachers with the demands of the world of employment.

With on the job experiences, teachers will be able to better prepare students for the demands of future jobs, according to DCC officials.

"Schools and industries need to work together to better educate and train students with the skills required for future jobs," said Andrea Williams, Merriam School principal.

Margie Baird

Williams said she made her staff aware of the opportunity and Baird quickly accepted the challenge.

Deepwell pipeline vote due Aug. 2

By AL POST
 MCN Staff Writer

The latest zoning request by Environmental Disposal Services to pipe non-hazardous liquid waste from one side of Northline Road to an injection well 2,400 feet away apparently will be decided on Aug. 2.

The hearing on the EDS application before the city's Zoning Board of Appeals got off to a rocky start on July 5, as new ZBA chairman Stanley Kreft was selected, despite the fact that one newly named board member was absent and neither alternate board member was there to fill his seat.

Newly named board member Brooker Edwards and current alternate board member Mary Collins reportedly were both out of town.

A second alternate Tim Spiewak had not been presented with his meeting packet yet (since he was only elected two nights before).

With only four board members in attendance, the ZBA heard EDS vice president Austin Marshall and EDS attorney Larry Ternan press for a decision that night stating the delays are seriously costing EDS money.

But Steve Winter, who is representing the city of Romulus, said he had only received the EDS proposal days before and needed time to digest its implications.

EDS is seeking zoning interpretations on two proposals:

- One that would permit an office building, non-hazardous liquid waste storage, filtration and pumphouse building on a 38-acre parcel on the northwest corner of I-275 expressway and Northline Road.

- And a second proposal to permit a single deep injection well for only non-hazardous liquid waste on a 13.43 acre plot on Wahrman Road.

The connecting link, Marshall explained, would be a pipeline about 2,400 feet long

Marshall said the depth of the pipeline is undecided, but would be a minimum of three-and-a-half feet deep, possibly deeper.

from the pumphouse to the well (with most of the pipeline being placed underground near the railroad tracks).

Marshall said the depth of the pipeline is undecided, but would be a minimum of three-and-a-half feet deep, possibly deeper.

ZBA members said there was no way they could decide on the issue last Wednesday without EDS guaranteeing that the company would never seek Michigan Department of Natural Resources or Environmental Protection Agency permits for hazardous liquid waste disposal in the future.

Marshall and Ternan refused to make that guarantee. Marshall said the state would never allow the requested pipeline to be used for hazardous waste and Ternan said since EDS is not now requesting hazardous waste disposal, that element should not be part of the current decision process.

New ZBA member Dan Buzzard complained that EDS has flip-flopped on the hazardous-non-hazardous issue during past hearings and he wanted to make sure that the current request was not just the first step to gain future hazardous waste well use.

Kreft and Ternan got into a verbal tussle early in the meeting with Kreft refusing to recognize Ternan repeatedly.

Firefighters battle in Waterball competition

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Romulus Firefighters from Station 2 triumphed over their soaking wet peers on July 4 as they won the current Firefighters Waterball Tournament at Elmer Johnson Park.

The winning team lead by Capt. George Simko included Lt. John Thiede and Firefighters Gerry Hollis, Bill Cagle, Chad Blackburn, Mike Cullen and Mike Hawkins.

They were presented with the traveling trophy for winning the tournament championship, according to Tournament Coordinator Bob McCraight.

All four fire stations also won participation trophies this year, since it was the first that took place in Romulus over an extended period of time, McCraight said.

While he had never competed in such a contest before, McCraight had told Fire Chief William Greenslait a few months back that he remembered such waterball competitions when he was a child.

McCraight sought permission to conduct such a tournament and won the approval of Mayor Beverly McAnally and the city council.

"We cut the game times back from 30 to 20 minutes each as we found that our firefighter gear, normally weighing about 30 pounds gained another 10 pounds as it got soaked with water," he said. The day's tournament played in the park tennis courts began with Station 2 besting Station 1 and then Station 3 topping Station 4.

Station 2 won the championship match by beating Station 3. The final match saw Station 4 winning out over Station 1 for the consolation prize.

Each team fielded six players, with Stations 3 and 4 placing coed teams on the court.

Three councilmen, Michael Prybyla, Bill Wadsworth and Randy Gear along with ex-firefighter Dave Frazer served as the day's referees.

McCraight also said he wanted to thank Kevin Wojtylko, Mike Bergeron, Chris Patterson and Alex Bossidis for their assistance in setting up the equipment for the matches and for helping to obtain the trophies.

Efforts are being made now to make the firefighter waterball tournament an annual event in Romulus, McCraight said.

"We'll need a new ball for next year," McCraight joked. "We wore out the large beachball size model this year."

New park area opens

A new fishing and recreation area has been developed in the Rouge Watershed by the Wayne County Park System.

A June 28 ceremony marked the opening of Newburgh Point, located west of Newburgh Road on Edward Hines Drive in Livonia.

Wayne County Executive Edward H. McNamara was on hand to join in the grand opening festivities.

"We have worked to revitalize this and other areas in the Wayne County Park System for some time," said McNamara.

DIGEST

Fireworks charge goes to court

Howard Bruce, 57, of Romulus, was arraigned on one charge of violating the state's fireworks law on Monday in the 34th District Court.

Bruce was arrested at a local flea market several days before July 4 when he was spotted by Police Chief Daryl Poe selling obviously illegal fireworks. His fireworks were confiscated.

Police said there are 55 counts to the fireworks charge. Bruce pleaded not guilty and was released on $1,000 personal bond. His return court date was scheduled for Aug. 17.

New police, fire commissioner picked

Elder Edward Thomas Jr., pastor of the Martin Temple Church of God in Christ, has been named to fill the unexpired term of Flenoid Marion on the Romulus Police, Fire and Safety Commission.

Mr. Marion resigned his commission post on May 19 and died suddenly a short time later.

"She is an outstanding teacher with 26 years of experience and is currently our curriculum leader," Williams said. "Margie is very innovative, a risk-taker and is open to changes that are needed in today's educational scene."

Late word was received Monday that a second Romulus teacher, Terry Bird, a school-to-work transition teacher at Romulus High School, will begin a similar internship beginning the following week at Aztec Manufacturing Corp. of Romulus.

Bird said he has worked with Frank Lopez (Aztec owner and CEO) in the educational partnership program between the schools and business and is looking forward to the hands-on internship effort beginning July 24.

Good samaritan aids man

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

It was 2:30 a.m. A 73-year-old Romulus man was driving eastbound on Merriman when all of a sudden he crashes his 1979 Ford Grenada into a tree.

Unconscious and about to become a victim of a car fire, the Romulus resident appears to be out of luck. Suddenly, five Samaritans traveling in the same path stop to assist the man just in the nick of time before the car is about to explode.

These events actually are part of a true story which took place July 2 in Wayne. Police Chief John Colligan said if it wasn't for the five individuals who stopped to assist the man, he may not be alive today.

"Upon impact of the crash, the victim was unconscious, and all the doors to the vehicle were locked," said Colligan. "These five people helped him get out of his car right before the vehicle ignited."

"If they hadn't assisted him, he would have probably burned to death."

The victim is in critical condition at the burn center at the University of Michigan Hospital.

His guardian angels are: Patrick K. Thompson of Trenton, Leah Marie Ritten of Mounts View, MN, Amy Jo Dunlap of School recycling contract awarded

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Romulus School District approved a rubbish removal-recycling contract with City Environmental Services of Romulus on Monday night.

The contract for 1995-97 was okayed unanimously, 7-0.

City Environmental's bid on garbage collection was $21,516 compared to Waste Management's bid of $22,440.

With the added element of recycling, City Environmental's bid was $22,200, while Waste Management's was $22,440.

Assistant Superintendent Joel Carr said the district's policy committee will be meeting in the near future to set up a recycling policy for the local schools and administration office.

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Despite some on-site labor concerns, the Romulus City Council approved a special land use proposal to allow Chemcentral to create 32 above ground tanks for storing industrial chemical products.

The tanks will ultimately replace 62 underground tanks.

Councilman Ellis Pennington asked a Chemcentral representative if a strike was currently occurring on site. He said "Yes".

Pennington said he was receiving complaints from the strikers that some of Chemcentral's security agents were abusing the picketers and even knocking signs out of their hands.

The company spokesman only admitted that security persons had been hired and he would check to see if any police reports were filed on any incidents at their worksite.

"I feel the company has a right to operate, but the workers also have a right to strike," said Councilman Jimmie Raspberry.

In its official written statement to the city, Chemcentral said its Huron River Drive facility "receives, stores and distributes industrial chemical products to other businesses in the Detroit metropolitan area."

"As a distributor, Chemcentral does no manufacturing, but rather purchases products from various manufacturers for resale," the statement continued.

It further stated that "dry products are received in bags or drums and are usually not repackaged prior to distribution. Liquid products are received in bulk and are commonly stored in tanks prior to shipment in tank trucks or packaging into smaller containers for distribution."

The special land use request was approved 5-0, with Mayor pro tem Mary Ann Banks and Councilman Noah "Pete" Bergeron absent from the session.

In an unrelated matter the council also voted 5-0 to approve the vacating of an alley abutting Lots 144 through 152 in the Taylor Road Subdivision.

The request was filed by Joseph and Frances Tuccini, owners of the above listed lots, and a public hearing was conducted Monday night on the issue.

City Assessor Matt Raftary said he reviewed the petition and found it contained the signatures of more than 50 percent of the adjoining property owners.

Basketball camp to begin 3rd year

Prior to that he played basketball for Eastern Michigan University, where he lead the team to a Mid-American Conference Tournament victory and received an MVP award.

Long and other NBA and NCAA players and high school coaches will offer drills in shooting, dribbling, etc.

Two sessions will be offered: the first for coed youth 8 to 12 years from 9 a.m. to noon and the second for youth 13-18 years of age from 1 to 4 p.m. The camp is sponsored by the city Parks and Recreation Department and Romulus High School.

Long has said that he was among the Romulus High students, who were trained at camps a decade or more ago offered by Piston star Bob Lanier.

"Today I am passing on that opportunity to our city's youth in the hope that one of them may come back 10 years from now and continue the tradition," Long said last year.

For the third straight year, Atlanta Hawks basketball star Grant Long, is returning to his home base of Romulus High School to help local youth with their basketball skills.

Long's 1995 basketball camp will be offered free July 26-28 at the Romulus High School.

The camp is offered free to the first 125 youth (per session) who register at the city's Parks and Recreation Department on Bibbins Street. Parents must sign a release form and the youth, both males and females, must wear basketball shoes, athletic socks, shorts and T-shirts.

Long, a 1984 Eagles graduate, recently completed his seventh year in professional basketball, the first six with the Miami Heat.

The Romulus native was named the Most Valuable Player for the 1988-89 season and earned two consecutive Heat Leadership awards in 1990-91 and 1991-92.

Kreft explained later "I only did that so that one lawyer wouldn't interrupt another. We (ZBA board members) will be the only ones allowed to be obnoxious here."

At earlier meetings, complaints surfaced that citizen protesters turned the council chambers into a carnival atmosphere.

The ZBA earlier this year rejected EDS' first well plan because it is located totally in an M-1 zone.

EDS has now shifted the unloading and storage facility to a nearby M-2 zone and then plans to pipe the non-hazardous materials to the well located in the M-1 zone.

Volunteers paint play equipment

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

A dedicated band of students, teachers and parents teamed up recently to enliven the Hale Creek Elementary School playground area with new blue and white paint (their school colors).

Donna Wilson, president of the Parent Teacher Guild at the school, reported 20 to 25 student and adult volunteers arrived at the school on Harrison Road and spent the entire day painting the old playground equipment.

They concluded by painting the students' bike rack, Wilson said.

Armed with sanding and painting equipment, Principal Lynn Mossioian said the group stripped down all the old rust and dirt from the play equipment (swings, slides and jungle Jim style equipment) and then coated them with bright blue and white coloring.

One parent, Robert Rushow, was so impressed with the volunteer effort, Mossioian said, he went home and carved out a large wooden sign that says "Hale Creek School." That sign will be erected on school property this fall, she said.

"We had wanted to do the project last August," Mossioian said, "but we got rained out. But the determination never wavered and the PTG volunteers rescheduled the work session."

Both Wilson and Mossioian were extremely pleased to see the reaction of the students the following Monday.

CITY OF ROMULUS CHAPTER 2 ARTICLE III AMENDED ADMINISTRATION ORDINANCE

An Ordinance of the City of Romulus Providing That the Code of Ordinances be Amended by Adding a New Section to be Known as Chapter 2, Article III, Section 2-50 Providing a Code of Ethics for City Office Holders and Employees.

THE CITY OF ROMULUS ORDAINS:

Section 1: Short Title

This ordinance shall be known and cited as the Code of Ethics Ordinance.

Section 2: Pubic Policy

It is hereby declared to be the policy of the City of Romulus that all officials and employees must avoid conflicts between their private interests and those of the general public whom they serve. To enhance the faith of the people and the integrity and impartiality of all officials and employees of the City, it is necessary that adequate guidelines be provided for separating their roles as private citizens from their roles as public servants. Where government is based on the consent of the governed, every citizen is entitled to have complete confidence in the integrity of his government. Each individual official, employee, or adviser of government must help to earn, and must honor that trust by his own integrity and conduct in all official duties and actions.

Section 3. Definitions: As Used in This Code

I. City Official/Employee means a person elected, appointed or otherwise serving in any capacity with the City of Romulus in any position which is established by the City Charter or by city ordinance which involves the exercise of a public power, trust or duty. The term includes any official or employee of the City, whether or not they receive compensation, including consultants and persons who serve on advisory board and commissions.

II. Decision Making means exercising public power to adopt laws, regulations or standards, render quasi-judicial decisions, establish executive policy, or determine questions involving substantial discretion.

III. Substantial means anything of significant worth and importance, or of considerable value as distinguished from something with little value, social tokenism or merely nominal.

IV. Compensation means any money, property, thing of value or benefit conferred upon or received by any person in return for services rendered or to be rendered to himself or another.

V. Official Duties or Official Action means a decision, recommendations, approval, disapproval or other action or failure to act which involves the use of discretionary authority.

Section 4. A Code of Conflict of Interest and Ethical Conduct is Hereby Promulgated as Follows:

Gratuities:

I. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall solicit, accept or receive, directly or indirectly, any gift, whether in the form of money, service, loan, travel, entertainment, hospitality, thing or promise, or in any other form, under circumstances in which it can reasonably be inferred that the gift is intended to influence him or her in the performance of their official duties or if intended as a reward for any official action on their part.

Preferential Treatment:

II. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall use, or attempt to use, their official position to unreasonably secure, request, or grant any privileges, exemptions, advantages, contracts or preferential treatment for themselves or others.

Use of Information and Privilege:

III. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus who acquires information in the course of their official duties, which information by law or policy is not available at the time to the general public, shall use such information to further the private economic interests of themselves or anyone else.

A public officer or employee shall not divulge to any unauthorized person confidential information acquired in the course of employment in advance of the time prescribed for its authorized release to the public.

Full Disclosure:

IV. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall participate, as an agent or representative of the City, in approving, disapproving, voting, abstaining from voting, recommending or otherwise acting upon any matter in which he or she has a direct or indirect financial interest without disclosing the full nature and extent of their interest. Such a disclosure must be made before the time to perform their duty or concurrently with that performance. If the officer or employee is a member of a decision making or advising body, they must make disclosure to the chairman and other members of the body on the official record. Otherwise, a disclosure would be appropriately addressed by an appointed officer or employee to the supervisory head of their organization, or by an elected officer to the general public.

Outside Business Dealings:

V. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall engage in, or accept employment or render services for a private or public interest when that employment or service is incompatible or in conflict with the discharge of the official or employee's official duties or when that employment may tend to impair his or her independence of judgment or action in the performance of official duties.

VI. No city official/employee shall engage in a business transaction in which the public, city official, or employee may profit from his or her official position or authority or benefit financially from confidential information which the public official or employee has obtained or may obtain by reason of that position or authority.

Doing Business With the City:

VII. No city official/employee shall engage in business with the city, directly or indirectly, without filing a complete disclosure statement for each business activity and on an annual basis.

Suppression of Public Information:

VIII. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall suppress any public city report, document or other information available to the general public because it might tend to affect unfavorably their private financial or political interest.

Use of City Property:

IX. No city official/employee of the City of Romulus shall, directly or indirectly make use of or permit others to make use of City property of any kind for purely personal gain. City officials/employees should protect and conserve all city property including equipment and supplies entrusted or issued to them.

Section 4: Intention of Code

It is the intention from Section 3 above that city officials and employees avoid any action, whether or not specifically prohibited by Section 3 which might result in, or create the appearance of:

- I. Using public employment or office for private gain;
- II. Giving or accepting preferential treatment to or from any organization or person;
- III. Impeding city efficiency or economy;
- IV. Losing complete independence or impartiality of action;
- V. Making a city decision outside official channels;
- VI. Affecting adversely the confidence of the public or integrity of the city government or
- VII. Giving or accepting preferential treatment in use of city property.

The Conflict of Interest and Ethical Code of Conduct Ordinance is intended to be preventative and cumulative. It should not be construed to interfere or abrogate in any way the provisions of any Michigan Statutes, the Romulus City Charter, and/or City of Romulus Ordinances.

This declaration of policy is not intended to prevent any official/employee of the City of Romulus from receiving compensation for work performed on his or her own time as a private citizen and not involving city business.

This declaration of policy is not intended to apply to contributions to political campaigns which are governed by State law.

Section 5. Violation, Enforcement and Advisory Opinions

I. All matters concerning the Conflict of Interest and Ethical Code of Conduct shall be directed to one of the two following controlling authorities depending upon the employment status of the City of Romulus official/employee involved, or group concerned, and the nature of the action requested;

The appropriate action to be taking in any individual case shall be at the discretion of the controlling authority involved which may include but is not limited to any of the following:

- A) Referral of the matter to a higher authority.
- B) Pursuing further investigation by the controlling authority.
- C) Taking appropriate disciplinary action, including removal from office, appointed position or employment, in accordance with the Romulus City Charter, City Code, State Law, or the regulations of policies of the City of Romulus, a violation of this Code for an elected official shall be deemed misconduct in office.
- D) Deeming no action to be required.
- E) Pursuing such other course of action which is reasonable, just and appropriate under the circumstances.

III. The above listed controlling authorities may render written advisory opinions, when deemed appropriate, interpreting the Conflict of Interest and Ethical Code of Conduct as set forth in Section 3 above. Any city official/employee may seek guidance from the controlling authority upon written request and an advisory opinion shall be requested on questions directly relating to the propriety of their conduct as officials and employees. Each written request and advisory opinion shall be confidential unless released by the requester.

A) Request for opinions shall be in writing.
B) Advisory opinions may include guidance to any employee on questions as to:

1. Whether an identifiable conflict exists between his/her personal interests or obligations and his/her official duties.
2. Whether his/her participation in his/her official capacity would involve discretionary judgment with significant affect on the disposition of the matter in conflict.
3. What degree his/her interest exceeds that of other persons who belong to the same economical group or general class.
4. Whether the result of the potential conflict is substantial or constitutes a real threat to the independence of his/her judgment.
5. Whether he/she possesses certain knowledge or know-how which the city will require to achieve a sound decision.
6. What effect his/her participation under the circumstances would have on the confidence of the people in the impartiality of their city officials and employees.
7. Whether a disclosure of his/her personal interests would be advisable, and, if so, how such disclosure should be made so as to safeguard the public interest.
8. Whether it would operate in the best interest of the people for him/her to withdraw or abstain from participation or to direct or pursue a particular course of action in the matter.

Section 6: Penalty.

Anyone found guilty of violating this Section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine not to exceed Five Hundred Dollars ($500.00) or by imprisonment not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both, in the discretion of this court.

Section 7: Severability.

Should any clause, sentence, paragraph, sub-section or section of this Article be declared void or otherwise invalid, for any reason, by any court of competent jurisdiction, such declaration shall not affect any portion of this Article other than the part specifically declared to be void.

Section 8: Effective Date.

This ordinance shall become effective immediately upon publication in the official newspaper.

Criminal bill seeks to change sentencing

A three-bill package that would change the criminal sentencing system in Michigan and effectively abolish parole has been introduced.

Governor John Engler said the bills, when coupled with Truth-in-Sentencing legislation passed nearly one year ago, replace the state's current indeterminate sentencing system with a determinate one, and replace parole with a period of supervisory release, which would occur only after a determinate sentence had been served. Under the new sentencing system, felons convicted of serious crimes could not be released before serving at least their determinate sentence.

"No longer will a criminal convicted of a violent offense and sentenced to seven to 15 years be freed before even serving seven. A minimum will mean a minimum," Engler said. "No longer will murderers, rapists and other violent offenders sentenced to life be eligible for parole after 15 years. Life will mean life."

The governor said the changes mean that Michigan's hardest criminals, those with a known propensity for violence or sexual assault will not be allowed to escape back to the streets early through parole as they have in the past.

"The good people of this state who work hard to raise families and live peaceful lives deserve a justice system that protects their best interests," Engler said. "They deserve the security that comes from knowing that those who break the law will serve their sentence in its entirety."

Senior Celebration day events slated Sept. 6

Debby Whyman's bill to merge Detroit Recorder's Court into Wayne County Circuit Court gained momentum on two fronts last week.

The conservative Canton republican state representative has never been known to back away from a controversy, and this bill has stirred the pot plenty.

As you might expect, Recorder's Court judges are up in arms and have attempted to paint Whyman racist and right wing.

However, traditional Democratic strongholds like the City of Romulus and the Township of Sumpter have thrown their support to the bill. So have many other municipalities. Recorder's Court proponents are experiencing a revolt in the burbs, thanks to too many decisions that have allowed criminals to go free.

The latest "slap on the wrist" took place last week. A Detroit jury acquitted Brian Marable of first-degree murder and three counts of attempted murder in the shooting death of a 17-year-old Sterling Heights girl.

The popular senior at Sterling Heights High School, Rebecca Gordon, was a passenger in a vehicle with three friends when Marable pulled alongside them and shot each of them. Gordon was killed and her three friends wounded.

Noted criminal lawyer Cornelius Pitts claimed Marable feared for his life after being called a "bitch ass nigger." Marable also claimed he saw a weapon in the teens' vehicle.

Because of that he decided to shoot first. Apparently the Detroit jury believed him and Marable at worst case may be sentenced to four years in prison.

Whyman's attempt to abolish Recorder's Court may not prevent verdicts like this one, however, it will allow all citizens of Wayne County to vote for each and every judge and have the opportunity to participate on all juries.

This newspaper has been a strong advocate for this change. We believe judges that have jurisdiction over criminal cases county-wide ought to face election on a county-wide ballot.

Currently only City of Detroit residents can vote for Recorder's Court judges. This is not the least bit fair to the victims of crime in Westland, Belleville or Canton, who must face their perpetrator in court, knowing the judge or jury is not going to be as tough as they might be if their constituency included the suburbs.

Whyman rightfully says, "My constituents can only vote for Circuit Court judges, not Recorder's Court judges. This offends the concept of 'one man, one vote.' It isn't tolerable to live under this system. The lack of equity is outrageous."

Go get 'em Debby. You have many people, including this newspaper, behind you.

Canton needs post office

The on-again, off-again status of a new post office for Canton appears to be on again, and we hope that this time there will be no back tracking on the promise.

There have been so many contradictory statements about the proposed post office that one cannot help but have doubts about the sincerity of the latest promise. Too often promises of a new post office have been followed by announcements that the plans have been cancelled or delayed.

In fact, Congresswoman Lynn Rivers told the Canton Chamber of Commerce last week, "don't believe it until you see the shovels in the ground."

With approximately 63,000 residents, there is no question that the community needs - and deserves - its own post office.

The smaller communities of Belleville, Inkster and Westland have had their own post offices for years, while Canton residents have been put on hold.

Officials with the U.S. Postal Service have indicated that Canton is in line to receive a full-service post office in 1997. Preliminary plans for the facility call for a building of 20,000 square feet or more at a cost of approximately $3 million.

Steps need to be taken at the earliest possible date to remedy the problem, and build an adequate post office for the needs of the fast-growing community.

To the editor:

Two thousand years from now—when future archaeologists are sifting through the pot shards of late 20th century American civilization—I am convinced that they will conclude that we were a culture consisting of two classes of people. Here's what those future archaeologists might report:

We have determined that America in the 1990's had two social classes. The ruling or elite class was quite large and was probably called the "entitled class." This group of people lived off of government payments called "entitlements." The entitled class seems to have been almost entirely unproductive. And, in fact, this class was often paid by the government to do essentially nothing.

The second and much lower social class seems to have been a worker class—or possibly even a slave class—called "taxpayers." Taxpayers were an angry and disagreeable group of people. They were often accused, by the entitled class, of being "mean-spirited."

It was the duty of the taxpayers to labor to support not only themselves, but also to support the vast and ever growing entitled class.

As the demands of the entitled class continued to grow year after year—many taxpayers became disillusioned. Some taxpayers decided that working for "peanuts" in this environment was no longer worth the effort. Many of these taxpayers sought entry into the entitled class. Which apparently was not that hard to do.

Being in the entitled class was very good. Amazingly, being "entitled" took away "mean spiritedness." Entitled people were always right in everything they said or did. Because, being entitled gave one a certain "immunity" from criticism—particularly from being criticized by someone as low-minded as a mere taxpayer.

Then, one day something changed. Around the year 2000—the entire culture vanished without a trace. Inexplicably! The entire "culture of entitlement" gone! What happened? Was it a comet? A virus? Did everyone become "entitled" leaving no one in the worker/slave class to support the "entitled ones." Did the worker class rebel and simply walk out—leaving the entitled ones holding a bunch of worthless government checks. No one really knows. And the mystery will probably never be solved.

Yes, the disappearance of late century American culture will baffle archaeologists two thousand years from now. But—how could they ever know what living in America in the 1990's was really like?

Position explained

To the editor:

Reference is made to your editorial, "Mike's Musings" included in the June 29, 1995 issue of the Belleville Enterprise. I object to the slanted view included in this editorial in connection with your comment "...Despite neighbors doing all in their power to stop the expansion, the committee prevailed. ..." This statement implies that those who objected to adding another landfill in Van Buren Township were the bad guys in the situation. Those of us who live in the vicinity of the expanded landfill were looking forward to a significant depreciation in property values (one informed estimate was $10,000 in a sell situation), as well as a threat to quality of life. I wonder where you would stand in this type of threat to your well being? I would like an answer from you to this question.

Your comments and rationale will be appreciated.

Thank you for books

To the editor:

I would like to thank you for your continued support of our Inkster Head Start/MDE programs.

It is such a pleasure to see the children's faces as they receive a book donated from our local newspaper agency.

The love of books and reading is such an important lesson to learn at this young age, and we appreciate the way you work with us each year in order to make sure each child has that opportunity of owning a book.

Have a great summer!

Sound-Off 729-4006

Callers keep line busy with comments, criticisms, observations

After watching the Romulus council meeting on July 3, I was very discouraged. I have been a resident for over thirty years and I have never seen a more arrogant council person than Randy Gear. He thinks he owns the council and making snide gestures while others are speaking. Also I have learned that our city has spent over $400,000 on a lawsuit that has not even gone to court yet. Come election time we need to show the council that we no longer want our money spent unwisely.

I am sick and tired about hearing about the O.J. Simpson case. Everyone should remember that money talks and O.J. is going to walk.

I got a ticket for going 5 m.p.h. over the speed limit which I admit being guilty of. I did not have my proof of insurance either. I was one day late responding to these tickets and now I owe $150.00. I have never had a ticket before and I think $150.00 is extreme for a working family. This is two grocery money. Its not like we are criminals, I could understand $50.00, but not this sum.

We attended Romulus' 25th anniversary celebration and we were pleased to see former Mayor Hyle Carmichael. We were wondering where former Mayor William Oakley was?

I feel that there is danger in deep well injection. Remember we are a Great Lakes state. Please give your support.

No dollars gained by gambling in the city will offset the negative aspects that it will bring. The potential for danger is always there and I will be against it.

I am calling about a letter that was printed when you first converted your Sunday paper over to the Eyewitness. People had commented about the sleazy looking girls on the cover of your paper. Well, I would like to know why you are doing it again? It seems like every time you do it, it gets sleazier and sleazier. This is a family paper and there are a lot of people who do not want to see half naked girls on the front of your paper. Is that your girlfriend or something? What kind of person are you?

I have lived in Romulus all of my life and I am trying to raise a family here. I remember back in the 70s when the Sun Well pipeline blew up and destroyed several homes. I remember when the Lear Jet crashed into the fuel tanks out by I-94. It seems that Romulus has had enough bad situations. We don't need anything else. I feel that EDS came in here, offered some council people some kind of service they would charge you up the ying am not a member of RECAP or anything else, but I feel like this is a bad thing. They will find that they have run into an angry group of citizens.

I am a resident of Wayne and I agree with one of the callers on your SOUNDOFF that Wayne is erecting a library on a monument that should be respected. It is in a terrible location. Another caller spoke up and said how the city council likes to SPEND, SPEND, SPEND. We don't need another library. Westland was smart, they put their library in a nice location. The new library will make our peace memorial look bad. People please let's make the city council wake up. We are spending our money unwisely. I guess they thought we had to put the library there since there is a parking garage there. Good luck city hall. I hope we get some new people in there running things.

Governor Engler's decision to ban gambling was a good one. I am a long time resident of Romulus and I would not go to Detroit to gamble even if I was accompanied by an armed guard.

Ameritech is entering the cable T.V. business. If they run it like they do their phone company it will be pretty sad. Every time you would need some money and thought that they could steam roll the city. I yang for it. If you wanted to change the channel they would probably charge you for that. When you call to get your phone serviced from a pay phone they charge you forty cents. If you want to change your phone number they charge you. I can only imagine what a cable company would be like.

I would also like to comment on the patriotic Fourth of July stuff. Myself I am not patriotic due to the screwing you get from the government. The government can take its flag and stick it, and I hope more people burn them.

Wayne is planning it's Sidewalk Sale. What are they going to have for sale, the sidewalks? Its not like they have any stores to shop at. There is no place to buy dresses or shoes. If you want to get drunk there are more bars than anything else. It is such a shame, Wayne used to be a very nice town. Now, I am ashamed to say I live here. Why doesn't the Mayor and the City Council get some businesses in here before tumble weeds start blowing down the middle of Michigan Avenue.

Tonya Beck said she attended Wayne County Community College "because the school has an accredited (Occupational Therapy Assistant) program." Beck found out one reason the program is accredited: students get hands-on training in the classroom. "The instructor gave us a wheelchair assignment so we would know how those in wheelchairs get around. It made you realize how important barrier-free buildings are."

A 1994 WCCC graduate, Gary Toussaint transferred to the University of Detroit (U of D) Mercy to study education. Though he had not originally planned to attend WCCC, he said the College prepared him for the U of D Mercy. "In the fall of 1991 I was going to University of Detroit Mercy, but financial aid wouldn't pay for everything. The financial aid adviser advised me to go to a community college. The next day I came to Wayne County Community College, and when I came in, I was lucky enough to be helped by the Eastern Campus Business Manager. He sympathized with my situation. He was able to get me in." Toussaint, a native of Haiti, got involved in activities and began to feel "part of the American society, that melting pot."

Teamwork Village residents tend to their garden

How does the Tae Keuk Village garden grow? It takes at least 74 pairs of hands, a bit of creativity and hard work.

Each year Tae Keuk residents take time to nurture one of their greatest treasures, their garden, which is located in Wayne off of Michigan Avenue.

For the residents, it's a small paradise which provides fruits and vegetables of all kinds throughout the summer months.

"The garden has been good to us every year," said Sunpok Choi, residential manager. "All the residents enjoy planting their favorite vegetables."

There are at least 74 plots, and each plot belongs to one family at the Village. The garden has been in existence for approximately six years.

"The main supervisors for the garden are Heon Man Lim, Doo-Yang Chong and Jung Chul Choi," said Choi. "They do most of the work, and the rest follow."

It all began when a few residents decided to start a small garden in 1989. As they began planting, other families in the Village wanted to have their own garden.

Slowly but surely Tae Keuk Village created a garden patch so large that it now takes at least three supervisors to oversee the daily chores and each family to pamper their specific area during the week.

In November the residents plant garlic so by July they can harvest it. They typically begin working on the garden in March.

In 1992 the residents put together a greenhouse. Each family buys their own supplies for whatever vegetables or fruits they grow in the garden.

Tae Keuk residents also plant sesame seeds which they use to make cooking oil or as a seasoning. Other gifts from Mother Nature they receive include sweet potatoes, water celery and onions.

Besides feeding their families from the garden, there are approximately 28 Catholic Koreans at Tae Keuk who donate a portion of whatever they grow to their church in Southfield.

"Their goal is to gather enough funds to build their own church one day," said Choi.

A welcomed addition to the garden grounds this year will be a pond that is expected to be constructed by this fall.

Council members approved the site plan which includes a waterfall at the northeast section of the garden.

"We're hoping by the fall it will all be in place," said Choi. "Right now we're in the bidding process for the job. When it's all done, it will look so beautiful."

Stratus sedan is world's ahead of competitors

By JUSTIN WILCOX
MCN Automotive Writer

In the mid-sized sedan market there are a number of competitors. For 1995, the big news comes from Dodge and Ford. Ford introduced its Tempo/Topaz replacement, the Contour, and Dodge answered with its all new Dodge Stratus and Chrysler Cirrus.

These fierce competitors are going head to head into battle against one another. Each one's styling is drop dead gorgeous compared to the cars of years past. In my opinion, this is the first battle won by the Stratus. Dodge edges out Ford with an aggressive front fascia and cab-forward styling. Ford loses a bit with a more oval design that is a tad plain when compared with the Stratus.

Inspired by the 1992 Chrysler Cirrus concept car, the Stratus pushes the envelope of cab-forward design pioneered by the Concord, Intrepid, and Vision, which expands the amount of usable passenger space. The Stratus is 186 inches long overall, and are built on a 108 inch wheelbase. The result is a car that is quite different from anything else in its class. Interior space is greatly enhanced with an abundance of legroom, front and rear, and a roomy 42.3 inches and 38.1 inches respectively.

Stratus will offer a choice of three advanced powertrains: a 2.0 liter, 16 valve, SOHC engine mated to a five speed manual transaxle; a 2.4 liter, 16 valve DOHC engine mated to a four speed automatic transmission, and a 2.5 liter, 24 valve SOHC engine mated to a four speed automatic transmission.

Handling, more closely related to a sports coupe than a family sedan, is the result of a four wheel SLA (short/long arm) independent suspension including a multilink rear mated to an extremely rigid structure.

At an as tested price of $16,460 the Dodge Stratus is a bargain. My tester had power windows, locks, and mirrors; air conditioning, AM / FM stereo cassette; automatic transmission; dual air bags and a 2.4 liter DOHC 16v I4 engine.

The Stratus is miserly on fuel consumption, it is rated at 21 mpg in the city and 29 mpg on the highway.

If I had to find anything wrong with the Stratus it would be the lack of a center console/arm rest. If I had my choice I would have opted for the larger engine. When comparing driving enjoyment,

Ford's Contour is a clear winner. However, cars in this class are meant to hall things and this is where the Stratus shines. The Contour looks like a midget car you would see at the circus when comparing its interior space to the Stratus. Trunk space is abundant with a large folding rear seat, making the loading of large boxes a breeze when combined with the trunk lid that swings out of the way.

In this war, Dodge has defeated its enemy with a better exterior and a larger interior. Luckily they did not have to resort to the use of nuclear weapons.

Science Center sponsors special events

During the summer, the Detroit Science Center will host several special programs for youngsters.

Among the special events are:

- Summer Science Camp on Aug. 7-11. An innovative week long camp give kids in grades one to five an exciting new way to explore and invent in a challenging atmosphere.
- Campers will take apart old appliances without getting into trouble, learn to live as a community on the fictional planet of Zak, become an artist and inventor in the spirit of Leonardo DaVinci and Alexander Calder. For dessert, students will create a unique blend of ice cream using chemistry and kitchen skills. $150 for non-members and $100 for members. Pre-registration is required. There is a separate admission charge.
- Beginning July 16 and continuing through Dec. 31, Destiny in Space will be featured. It took 43 astronauts, six missions and five years to produce the film. Destiny in Space is an inspiring look at the challenges future generations will face about the universe. Viewers will see astronauts going about their daily work, the awe-inspiring departure of the Galileo probe destined for Jupiter, a spectacular night shuttle launch, and the retrieval and repair of the Hubble Space Telescope. It is narrated by actor Leonard Nimoy.
- July 16-24 is Space Week and the celebration of the 26th anniversary of Neil Armstrong's first steps on the moon. The Science Center's annual hydroponics space tomato garden is in bloom. First generation seeds sent into space aboard the LDEF shuttle are growing in a soil-less mix, in a recreation of experiments performed in space. Hydroponics is an increasingly popular and efficient way of growing plants and vegetables without soil. Daily activities include live viewing of the sun and model rocket launchings.
- The Detroit Science Center is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is $6.50 for adults, $4.50 for children 4-12 and senior citizens. Children 3 and under are free and members are free.
- For membership you can apply by phone or fill out an application at the museum. Cost is $40 for an individual and $60 for a family.

WEDDINGS

Kress-Voorheis

Phyllis Elizabeth Kress of Ypsilanti and Gerald Edward Voorheis of South Lyon were married in a double ring ceremony on May 20, 1995 at the First Christian Church of Ypsilanti.

The bride is the daughter of Peter and Lillian Kress of Belleville. She is a 1970 graduate of Belleville High School and 1974 Eastern Michigan University graduate. She works for Washtenaw County.

The groom is the son of Charlotte Voorheis of Saginaw and the late John Voorheis. He graduated from Arthur Hill High School in 1969 and the University of Michigan in 1977. He is employed by Wisne Automation and Engineering.

The bride wore a floor length ivory bridal satin gown, two rows of chantilly lace on the bottom of the trail, a sweetheart neckline, lace neckpiece and a veil.

She was given away by her father, Peter Kress. Her bouquet consisted of two dozen pink roses, four Casa Blanca lilies, variegated ivy and dendrobium orchids.

Her matron of honor was her sister, Patricia D'Autorio of Richardson, Tex., who wore a light pink two piece princess style suit and carried three long stem presentation style roses.

Her bridesmaids were Darlene Hickson of Ypsilanti, a friend of the bride, and Wendi Voorheis of Ypsilanti, sister-in-law of the groom.

The best man was Edmund Joe Tillo II of Belleville, best friend of the groom.

The groom wore an ivory tuxedo with a double rose boutonniere.

The groomsmen were Paul Kress of Ypsilanti, brother of the bride, and James Voorheis of Ypsilanti, brother of the groom.

The usher was Rich Shoff of Ann Arbor, nephew of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a lavender pleated dress with silver and white accessories.

The groom's mother wore a two piece purple lace suit with white gloves and accessories.

The reception was at Romanoff's Hall in Ann Arbor and was attended by 150 persons.

The couple honeymooned at Sandals Resort in Jamaica and now live in South Lyon.

The high and mighty World-class softball teams to play in Patrolman Anderson tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Nationally-ranked and world class softball teams will be heading for the city of Wayne next week to compete in the 19th annual Patrolman Leonard J. Anderson Invitational Softball Tournament.

Superior Sports, a team out of Canton Township and the defending tournament champ, will face some 15 other teams during the three-day tournament which kicks off July 21.

"We will have teams here that have earned national recognition for their excellence," said Larry Quartuccio, tournament director who also is the manager of Westland's J & K Transportation. "Teams like Jimmies of Kalamazoo have already sewed up a berth in the United States Slo-Pitch Softball Association (USSSA) World Series.

"They represent the top of the class of teams we will have here."

The field of 16 will also include Mountain Top of Northville, a three-time national invitational tournament champ, which also has earned an invitation to the World Series of Softball. The World Series will be staged later this year in Sterling Heights.

"I don't think you will find a better tournament in the state, and we in Wayne are fortunate of having these teams come here."

However, the tournament's future is in jeopardy, according to Quartuccio. Quartuccio, a longtime Wayne resident and an airline employee, said his corporation has transferred him to Cincinnati, Ohio. He and his family will be moving to their new home later this year.

Quartuccio said he "would like to see a 20th tournament, but I don't know. If I don't make it back, I just hope someone else will pick it up."

Quartuccio was the catalyst for getting the tournament off the drawing boards in 1975.

The invitational pays homage to the memory of Patrolman Anderson, an outstanding Westland John Glenn athlete who became a Wayne police officer. Anderson was slain in May of 1975 after he and his partner were dispatched to a home where a domestic quarrel reportedly was in progress.

Anderson was the first and only Wayne police officer to be slain in the line of duty in the city of Wayne.

"I never knew Lenny," said

Westland to host Pony playoffs

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The odd team may be out in Westland, but there are five other teams that covet the district title.

With Redford Township deciding it would take an alternative route to the state playoffs and not compete in the Westland district, the defection left five teams ready to play for the 1995 district baseball championship.

The district title will be decided over the weekend.

And Westland will have to beat only one opponent to reach the finals, but that opponent, Garden City, traditionally has a strong entry.

Because of the luck of the draw, Westland's natural rival, Wayne, has two foes in its path to the championship round.

In its first-round test, Westland will square off at 8 p.m. Friday against Garden City. The game will be staged at the Jaycees Park, located at Wildwood and Hunter Street, (near the Ice Arena).

In the meantime, in the other bracket, Wayne has to contend with Moose Lodge out of Lansing in a game scheduled for 6 p.m. Friday. The winner will meet Bloomfield in the semi-final round.

The Wayne-Lansing matchup will be decided at Voss Park, located at Henry Ruff and Palmer Road.

The championship round will be played at 1 p.m. Sunday on the Jaycees Park diamond.

The district champ will advance to the state finals which will be staged the weekend of July 21 in Mt. Pleasant.

The Westland Pony squad is managed by David Mackiewicz and coached by Perry Protter, Rory Jones and Jack Cichocki.

The Wayne roster was not available at press time.

She's in a league all of her own

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Jennifer Daniel has seen League of Their Own "about four or five times."

"I just loved the movie," said Daniel, a multi-talented sports star who recently earned Wayne State University's Scholar-Athlete Award for her outstanding performance on the softball diamond.

"It's too bad we don't have a professional softball or baseball league for women. I know a lot of players who would be interested."

For those who haven't had an opportunity to see the movie, which stars Geena Davis, Madonna, and Rosie O'Donnell, the flick is about a women's baseball league organized during World War II. The league promoters, apparently eager to cash in on the national pastime by fielding several pro women's teams while the boys (and women) were fighting the Nazis and Tojo's Japan, put together the league which survived during the war.

However, when the war ended, so apparently did the league.

The 22-year-old Daniel, who prepped at Romulus High, has lettered in high school and/or in college in such sports as cross country, volleyball, basketball, and tennis has the passion and the credentials to make it in any league.

She says that sports has been a great teacher, and a bridge to build lasting friendships.

"Sports is life. It's competition. It teaches you about winning and losing. The importance of team-work, it's all there," says Daniel.

"Thanks to sports, I have met many interesting people, some of whom have become close friends. I have traveled and seen things that I probably wouldn't have if it had not been for sports."

Daniel didn't allow sports to interfere with her grades. Upon graduation from high school in 1991,

Dolphins will test swim skills at Wayne Invitational meet

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Some 300 to 400 swimmers will invade Wayne Memorial on Saturday to compete in the annual Dolphin Invitational.

"It should be an interesting meet," said Dolphin swim coach Jim McPartlin, who noted that there will be 72 events. "The swimmers will compete in their age groups and there will be competition for both boys and girls."

The Dolphins, cosponsored by the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department, are the hosts for the championships. The field will also include teams representing the cities of Southgate, Garden City, Dearborn, Allen Park, Wyandotte, Lincoln Park and Huron Township.

The events will begin at 9 a.m. and continue to about 4 p.m. There is no admission charge, and the public is invited.

McPartlin said that the Dolphins' girls' team should fare well in most events, but he also expressed concerns that "because of the lack of numbers, we will have some problems in the boys' division."

Among those swimmers who the Dolphins will be counting on to win trophies and medals in the boys' division are the Raub brothers - Samuel and Josh, Justin Smoes, Ryan Silva, Jeff Anderson, Jim McPartlin (the coach's son), Steve and Greg Barber.

Others who should be in the thick of the battle for trophies are Tim Brown, Andrew and Darrell Hermitz.

Ready for this? MHSAA announces grid assignments

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Would you believe that the 1995 high school football season is less than a month away?

And that the Michigan High School Athletic Association has already assigned teams for the regional playoffs?

But the new lineup doesn't resemble anything like the old.

A year ago, undefeated Belleville took on Westland John Glenn for the Region 2 championship, and the Westlanders surfaced from a rain-soaked Belleville gridiron with a 14-0 victory.

Although the two Class AA teams are loaded again this year, there will not be a Belleville-Glenn rematch, not at the regional level at least.

The MHSAA has assigned the area rivals to separate regionals.

Belleville coach Bob LaPointe, who said he was surprised at the new assignment, and his Tigers will be competing in Region 2, along with Plymouth-Canton, Plymouth-Salem and such perennial powers as Monroe, Howell, Kalamazoo Central and Benton Harbor.

In the meantime, Glenn and coach Chuck Gordon will find themselves in Region 3 where they can look forward to competing against the likes of Detroit Catholic Central, Wayne Memorial, a stack of Detroit schools along with the Livonia group.

"I don't know why we aren't in Region 3 with the rest of the area teams," said LaPointe "I am sort of surprised to hear this. But, it's been a common practice over the years for them (MHSAA) to shuffle teams around. Last year, if you recall, we played Glenn for the regional title."

Inkster sets dates for tennis tourney

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Tennis, everyone?

Inkster Parks and Recreation Department officials are inviting tennis enthusiasts, and players, to sign up for the 17th annual Open Tennis Tournament.

The tournament will be conducted three days, beginning Aug. 17 on the municipal tennis courts located adjacent to the Inkster Recreation Complex, on Middlebelt Road.

"This tournament is one of the more popular local and area-wide sporting events that we stage during the summer," said Ron Wolkowicz, parks and recreation director. "Last year we had as many as 100 players, some from as far away as Birmingham and Grosse Pointe, play in it."

"Again, this year, we expect another huge turnout."

The tournament is designed to include both junior as well as senior netters. The competition is divided into divisions, according to the following age groups: Youth singles (17 and under); Youth singles (14 and under) and Youth doubles (17 and under). There is a $4 registration fee for singles, and it's $8 to compete in the doubles tournament.

The tournament also offers competition in men and women's singles and doubles. There is also a men's doubles (35 and over) and masters doubles (45 and over). A championship also will be decided for the adult mixed doubles.

For men's singles, there is a $8 fee, while in the doubles, the entry fee is $16. Masters and adult mixed doubles' fees are $16 per team.

Officials also stressed there is a 6 p.m. July 28 deadline to enter the 17th annual tournament. For more information, contact Portia Dickson.

she was offered a four-year academic scholarship to Wayne State.

And she had no difficulty breaking into the softball varsity lineup as a freshman. During her softball career at WSU, she tied a single-season record for stolen base percentage as a sophomore when she successfully converted 10 times. She is ranked 10th in career batting thanks to her .310 average and was voted to the 1992 NCAA-II All-Regional Team. In that same year, she also was voted Defensive Player of the Year.

At Romulus where she was prepped by coach Bill Cuhnan, she made the all-league, all-area and all-regional teams and was the Eagles' MVP. She was named to the all-state academic team.

An infielder who also pitched for the WSU Tartars, Daniel earned All-American recognition (1993) in the National Collegiate Athletic Association. And her accomplishments read like a Tolstoy novel.

During Daniel's WSU varsity tenure, Wayne State captured the GLIAC titles all four years. The Tartars also advanced to the regional playoffs three of the past four years.

However, one of Daniel's (and the Tartars') biggest disappointments was that they never made it to the nationals.

"Two years ago, we were one game away from the nationals," Daniel recalls. "And we blew it. We needed to win three games - and we won the first two, then ran up against a team that we had beaten earlier, so they had to beat us twice. And do you know what - they did."

"Boy, were we disappointed."

Usually teams that won their conference titles were automatically invited to the regionals.

"This year, the officials somehow rescinded the rule. And, although we were the conference champ, we didn't get to go to the regionals for the first time in three years. Our players really took that hard because we didn't have an opportunity to redeem ourselves."

Although Daniel is a senior, she will not be eligible to play this year because she has already used up all of her four-year eligibility. Daniel says she will continue to concentrate on her academics and get her degree in marketing, specifically in business. She also plans to get her masters.

Overlooked by the U.S. Olympic Committee seeking stars to fill their roster for the upcoming Games, which will be played in Atlanta, Georgia in 1996, Daniel said she is now keeping in shape by playing in a travel league out of Waterford Township.

"I would have given anything to be able to make the U.S. Olympic team but there are so many outstanding players in the U.S. And you really have to be great to make it. I didn't get an invitation for the tryouts. But I will never abandon sports - it has helped me too much over the years."

Daniel says she would like to see more girls in high school and junior high take up sports.

"From my personal experience I know that it can only help give you a positive outlook on life. If there is a message, that would be my message to those who are of junior and high school age."

The daughter of Larry and Janet Daniel of Romulus, Jennifer could easily become a champion of the cause for promoting sports.

"I want to own my own business someday, and you can bet it will have something to do with sports."

And maybe Jennifer Daniel may just organize a "league of her own."

Recall? Who could forget the game, coach?

Soon to begin his fourth year as head coach at Belleville, LaPointe should not have any problems putting a "competitive team", as coaches like to label teams that should be, barring injuries, at the top of the hill at the end of the season.

The Tigers' backfield is loaded. Again. With the exception of running back Chris Cannon who graduated in June, Belleville returns such notables as All-Area and All-State nominees: Quarterback Nate Lewis, running back Ian Gold and fullback Joe Manuel. Their defense also should be formidable. Again.

If the Tigers are hurting, they'll be hurting in their line on offense where graduation took its toll.

Nope, there is no redshirt-ing in high school, folks.

But LaPointe should have no problem finding recruits to fill in the holes.

Belleville definitely will be tagged as the preseason favorite. And that onus may prove to be their undoing - rare is the team in August that wins it all in December.

But no one who has plans to dethrone the Mega Conference Red Division champ will become the heir apparent without first toppling the Tigers.

Incidentally, the Red Division will welcome Romulus to the conference in 1995. The Eagles lose their independent feathers and will flock to a league that they will find a challenge.

Romulus also will have a new coach at its helm. Former Robichaud High track and football great, Mark D. Woodson, was selected to succeed Jim Zoltowski, who stepped down after the 1994 season.

A Class A school, the Eagles have been assigned to Region 3 for the playoffs. Among some of the 18 teams fans will find in that region are Dearborn, Edsel Ford, Farmington Hills Harrison, North Farmington, the Taylor schools along with Ypsilanti and Wyandotte.

In the meanwhile, Robichaud, a two-time Class B state champ and the school that gave the University of Michigan Tyrone Wheatley, was assigned to Region 4 where coach Bob Yauck will again have to contend with Beverly Hills - Detroit Country Day.

The regional assignments were approved by the MHSAA executive committee last month in East Lansing. Regional assignments will not be adjusted for schools which add or drop football prior to the beginning of the 1995-96 school year, state officials noted.

McPartlin will rely on such swimmers as Bethany Jares, Melissa Raymo, Kristine McCahill, Chris Zilka, Kara Pardee, Julie Anderson, Ann Bailey, Alana Tucker, Teresa Yorke, Andrea McCahill and Melissa Morningstar.

Trophies will be awarded to the first and second-place finishers in each of the events, while medals will be presented to the third-place finishers. Ribbons will go to those swimmers who finish fourth through-12th.

McPartlin also stressed the Dolphins are seeking swimmers who are 8 and older who can swim the length of the pool. Candidates reside in the Wayne-Westland School District attendance area.

Quartuccio. "But I had heard a lot about him. And when he was killed I thought there should be something to honor and remember him by. Since he was such an avid softball fan and player, we came up with the idea of a softball tournament in his name."

The tournament is sponsored by the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department and is hosted by J & K Transportation/Critter Control of Westland. Along with the softball action, the tournament also includes such crowd and fan pleasers as a Home Run Derby and a post-tournament party.

Programs will be available free of charge beginning July 14 at the Wayne Community Center, Howe Road and Annapolis. All games, including the championship match, will be played on the Leonard J. Anderson Softball Field, located behind the recreation complex.

Country music star to perform

John Berry is slated to perform 8 p.m. July 15 at the Sumpter Country Fest. MCN Special Photo

Popular country blues singer John Berry will appear in concert at 8 p.m. July 15 during the Sumpter Country Fest.

Berry began writing songs at age 17, and he cut his first independent albums before playing showcases and joining Liberty Records. His Southern country blues sound captures audiences, and his first two hit singles Kiss Me In The Car, and A Mind of Her Own were the beginning of his successful career.

Berry's latest single, Standing on the Edge of Goodbye, has steadily climbed into a "Top 30" country hit, and like Berry's career, it is still climbing strong, according to the festival sponsors.

Berry's first two releases, Your Love Amazes Me, and What's in it for Me?, both jumped to number one upon release. With his strong passion for music and a hand full of hits below his belt, Berry continues to grow both musically and in the world of hot country newcomers.

Tickets for this July 15 performance go on sale at $15.50 and $10.50. Tickets are available at all Ticketmaster Outlets, which include Harmony House, Hudson's and Warehouse Records, or may be charged by phone at (810) 645-6666. Tickets can also be purchased at the Sumpter Township offices, which are located at 23480 Sumpter Road in Belleville 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

County senior celebration slated

The concerns of area senior citizens will be addressed at a special event sponsored by four local legislators this fall.

State Representatives Lyn Bankers, R-Redford, Gerald Law, R-Plymouth, Jim Ryan, R-Redford, and Deborah Whyman, R-Canton Township, are sponsoring the first Western Wayne County Senior Celebration Day.

It is slated from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Sept. 16 at Burton Manor, 27777 Schoolcraft Road, Livonia.

The program includes noted speakers, issues workshops, entertainment, and a consumer and health fair.

Secretary of State Candice Miller, and Esther Shapiro, director of Detroit's Consumer Affairs Department, are the honored guests. They will answer questions and talk one-on-one with residents.

Whyman said the conference also will include an open exchange between local state representatives and visiting seniors.

"In addition to our main speakers, local lawmakers will gather to conduct a free discussion on issues most important to area seniors," Whyman concluded.

For more information on the conference, or how to secure a booth for the consumer or health fair, contact Sallie Nyhan at (517) 373-1863.

Airport gains weather technology

At the stroke of midnight on July 1, the National Weather Service Office in Detroit, took a major step to propel the agency along the path to space-age weather coverage.

Ed Burney, official in charge, and other NWS officials formally commissioned the Automated Surface Observing System (ASOS) at Detroit Metropolitan Airport at that time.

The unit at Detroit Metro is one of the 28 that will be installed and unused by the NWS and the Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) in the state of Michigan.

ASOS provides minute-by-minute information on surface temperature, wind speed and direction, dew point, precipitation, occurrence and amount, atmospheric pressure, cloud cover to 12,000 feet and visibility. The information is updated every minute for NWS and airport operations.

The observational data provides meteorological data needed in the NWS weather and flood forecast programs.

Westland carrier issued delivery service award

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

Thirteen-year-old Stacey Williams has been a Westland Eagle carrier for only three months, but in that short time she has learned all the skills it takes to be named Carrier of the Month.

With help from her 10-year-old brother, D.J., Stacey delivers 135 newspapers to customers at Woodland Meadows in Westland.

"I make sure all the papers are put on the porches, and if someone wants the paper in the door, I put it there. I do what the customer wants," said Stacey.

It takes Stacey about an hour to deliver the Thursday edition and 45 minutes to bring around the Sunday Eyewitness.

"You have to be nice to your customers and be courteous," said Stacey.

Her cheerful and helpful nature attitude pay off with good relations with her customers and successful collections.

Stacey is a student at Franklin Junior High School and has earned a place on the honor roll.

Her favorite subject is math, and she would like to be doctor -- even though she knows it will be hard work to do so.

One half of her earnings are put into her college fund and the other half is spent on her collection of clowns or other items that she wants to purchase.

D.J. uses the money he earns to add to his collection of baseball, football and basketball cards and pogs.

He has no special career goals at this time, but looks forward to earning some good grades in school in the fall.

Newspaper carriers, the two youngsters learned, are a vital link between those who write the news and the readers. Their job is an important one both for Michigan Community Newspapers and for their neighbors who read the Eagle and Eyewitness.

Local Rotary club helps area seniors

Last Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter, Rotary Club members, including those in Wayne, provided homebound seniors in southern and western Wayne County hot home-delivered meals.

The Rotary Clubs, from district 6400, provided volunteers who helped deliver meals and coordinate meal sites. They will be volunteering their time again during the next holiday season.

The Rotary Club contacted The Senior Alliance early in the fall of 1993, offering volunteers and donations for the Senior Alliance Holiday Meals program.

Several Rotary Club members delivered meals on Thanksgiving Day, Christmas Day and Easter Sunday with more members helping to coordinate meal sites. The Rotary hopes to make this an ongoing project.

The meals are funded through donations and delivered by volunteers. Seniors, who receive meals, must be homebound and along on the holiday. Hot, festive meals are prepared by Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn, Riverside Osteopathic Hospital in Trenton and Abington Manor in Westland.

The Senior Alliance started the meal program seven years ago to help fill the needs of area seniors. The program strives to provide all needy homebound seniors in southern and western Wayne County with a hot meal on holidays.

Maui native explores paradise in Michigan

By MARGO DEWEY
MCN News Editor

A visitor from Hawaii arrived in Michigan a few weeks ago, but before her departure from Maui several friends asked her what the state had to offer that drew her away from the island of paradise.

Michele Rosa had never been to the lakes state so she was unaware of the beauty that awaited her presence.

For Michigan natives, sometimes we often forget how much there is to see and do on this side of the world which harbors more than 200 inland lakes as well as the historical Mackinaw Island.

The first day of her visit, which was a Saturday, she was taken to St. Clair on the lake and Port Huron to experience what very few visitors or Michigan residents have encountered, boat mania.

Along the shore lines of these two areas rests a passion for boaters who possess all sizes and shapes of vessels that travel up and down the St. Clair river into the mouth of one of the five great lakes, Lake Huron.

In fact, Michigan is known to have more boaters than any state or country in the world.

Rosa caught a glimpse of a freighter pushing waves of water past the St. Clair Inn. The various ships share the lakes with boaters of all expertise.

She also shopped at the few unique antique stores located in the downtown area. St. Clair has maintained the charm of the olden days with vintage homes and friendly faces.

Rosa was then taken to Port Huron to take a look at the mouth of Lake Huron by the Blue Water bridge. Although it wasn't the ocean, she was impressed by the rapid moving current.

"I've never seen anything like it," said Rosa.

Moving into the downtown Port Huron area, the Maui native was taken past Thomas Edison's birth place and by the quaint shops which aligned the harbor front.

The next day Rosa was introduced to the Fisher Theater where she saw her first live performance by a celebrity, Bea Arthur in Bermuda

Triangle.

The artistic ceiling in the Fisher and the warmth of the theater left a lasting impression as well as the outstanding delivery by Arthur.

For dinner, Rosa was taken across the border to Windsor where she was treated to a fish dinner at the Fish Market.

"The food was great," said Rosa. "Everything was fresh and had a nice flavor."

On Monday, it was time to show Rosa the playground where children of all ages venture to at one time in their life, Cedar Point. Being a roller coaster expert, Rosa had never challenged the Magnum or Rapture.

As she entered the park, she was amazed at the number of rides offered and the size of the rides. She decided to first conquer the Magnum.

"It was fantastic," said Rosa. "You start out really slow going straight up not really knowing how far you are going to go. Then, when you finally reach the top, you realize you can't back out now. It's all down hill."

Rosa lined up for the Witches Wheel and the Corkscrew. By the time she found the Rapture, it was a two-hour wait. Her visit at Cedar Point had ended all too soon.

When Tuesday rolled around, Rosa decided to take in a bit of Michigan history by visiting Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum. She spent the day learning about the automotive industry and how various transportation evolved in the state including the first airplane.

It was a "shop til you drop" Wednesday as Rosa decided to challenge one of the largest shopping areas in the state, Birch Run. She also heard about the famous Christmas Around the World, Bronner's and Frankenmuth.

She started at 10 a.m. at the Christmas store and ended up at Birch Run by 1 p.m. Every store was visited by this island girl who ended up buying everything including the kitchen sink. The shopping party ended at 8 p.m.

By Thursday, the day before her departure, Rosa wanted to see a few of the exclusive homes in Michigan. She was taken on a drive through the Wabek West Bloomfield area as well as Cranbrook where the homes range from $300,000 on up.

Rosa began to see the true meaning of inland lakes as every corner turned had a small lake with secluded homes wrapped around the edges of the water.

The last few hours on Thursday were spent dining out at an authentic Japanese restaurant in Livonia, Akasaka. Rosa said she was very impressed with the wide variety of restaurants and the quality of food served.

As she bid farewell at the airport on Friday, Rosa vowed to return so she could visit the famous Mackinaw Island and perhaps take a drive to theater mecca of Canada, Toronto.

THE MARTIAL ARTS AND FITNESS

By Peter M. Miles

"Physical fitness and good health are just a few of the positive results from studying the martial arts," says Master Carl C. Tate, Jr. of the Southwest Taekwondo Institute in Inkster. "Our style is American Moo Duk Kwan which stresses responsibility, sincerity and justice. Our students are taught to be responsible for what they do, to themselves, as well as others. One can not be a true martial artist if you do not practice what you preach." He explains, "We want sincere effort, our students strive to do the best they can, to be the best that they can be. Finally, we seek to do justice, to do the right thing. These principles, when put into action, mean the student is doing more than just punching or kicking. The student is becoming a better person, physically fit, but much more."

Does studying the martial arts mean one has to be able to knock off 500 push-ups and 1000 sit-ups? The answer to that question may astound you!

Tony Valvona, Chief Instructor at the Shotokan Karate Federation in Westland states, "Before we used to train with very low stances. Our training now is much more flowing, we do not stay in positions with our joints locked out. We now do quite a bit of aerobic type training. It is a lot looser and allows us to move quicker and with more dynamic action." He adds, "The old lock-out training looks strong but the newer training concepts are more powerful."

Master Chris Rose of Wayne's Kicks Taekwondo makes this point: "Physical fitness is an important by-product of the martial arts. The student concentrates on leaning and perfecting the techniques rather than just doing often boring repetition which is used in other forms of exercise. By concentrating on perfecting the techniques rather than the muscle strain, the students are able to push beyond their perceived limitations. Especially Taekwondo with its high, dynamic kicking techniques, it develops flexibility and strength in muscles neglected in other forms of activities."

"We practice aerobically-calisthenics and stretching routines. People experience a difference. Their conditioning gets better and better," explains Sifu Smith of the Shaolin Kung-Fu school in Westland.

It appears the martial arts are not just about kicking and punching. That physical fitness is not the goal, but one of the benefits of practicing the martial arts.

Master Chris Gillam says, "Controlled breathing is the main ingredient of our discipline. When a student learns to master his/her breathing, they can go for beyond their normal physical limitations." He states, "At our school (United Tae Kwon Do in Garden City) the real test begins when the student reaches total physical exhaustion. Only then can you begin to utilize your uncharted potentials. But physical fitness is only one attribute of our training program. Superior training of the mind along with a positive spirit completes the total development of mind, body, and spirit as they are one with the individual each should be equally enhanced for a total person."

Belleville Choi Kwang Do instructor Kathy Sutherland agrees. "Through aerobic stretching and cardiovascular work-outs physical fitness is developed. We put all adults together, we put all kids together. In our programs we have people of all fitness levels."

Trenton's Hapkido Inc. instructor Peter Williams says, "We have strength, agility and endurance categories where we pinpoint specific exercises for our students. We have jump kicking, power breathing to develop internal and external strength as well as gymnastic exercises where we do cartwheels, round-offs and hand springs. We do running, falling, full contact bag-work and knee walking."

As the reader can see, fitness takes on a different meaning in the martial arts context. Master Timothy McHugh of McHugh's Tae Kwon Do and Fitness Center in Dearborn Heights explains, "We view fitness as a total thing. We try to develop fitness of the body such as strength and coordination. We develop fitness of the mind through discipline, respect and concentration. We develop fitness of the spirit through confidence, self-esteem, and respect for self and others."

Shihan Peter Carbone of Defensive Tactics Systems in Livonia concurs. "The martial arts are total fitness-physical and emotional, developing a good person for the community, not just a person in great shape." He adds, "There is more to the martial arts than just becoming physically fit. Like a doctor, the martial artist understands proper eating, proper nutrients. The martial arts are not all physical, approximately 90% is study, not just physical exercise. Hard physical training is only 10% of the martial arts. The other 90% is leaning how to heal, not just destroy the body."

The goal of the martial arts is not just to have the best looking body on the beach or to be able to beat up the bully who kicks sand in your face. Each school offers a different way of trying to achieve similar ends-the development of the person. People get involved in the martial arts for a variety of reasons, physical fitness and self-defense are frequent responses to why people study the martial arts.

Sifu Rocco of the Ambrose Kung-Fu Academy in Dearborn Heights says, "We have one outlook. Physical fitness is not necessary for self-defense, but it is a start. We look at fitness as an art."

"The uniqueness of Warrior Training and Shito-kan karate is the mental and spiritual fitness that develops through physical training," says Shodan Sally Eaton of the Aiello Group in Royal Oak. "We'd like all those interested in the martial arts to listen to Warrior Talk, the new revolution in talk radio. The host is Dr. Jerry L. Aiello and he is on WPON Radio, AM 1460 on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. Listeners are invited to call in and "Talk the Walk Live."

If you are considering enrolling in one of the fine martial arts schools advertised here, or already studying the martial arts, Oriental Gateway in Lincoln Park has all the supplies you need. Salesman Vinnie says, "We have everything for the martial artist, whether they study judo, karate, aikido, or kickboxing. We carry Rheemax, Masterline, Macho and Century brand products. Currently we have over 1,200 instructional videos. Stop by!"

Undertaking the study of the martial arts is a serious commitment of time and energy. You will discover there is more to the martial arts than just how much weight you can lose. You will discover there is more to yourself than what you thought possible!
